3920

1674/5 February 12-23.

Lower House Journal.

Original Act Parchm.

[illegible] following [illegible] by the Burgesses and [illegible] bled, and by the [illegible] of this House during

[illegible] shall use any Reviling speeches or name [illegible] gentleman that spoke last or the like. [illegible] without leave of the Speaker, and if hereafter [illegible] he shall speak first and no one may interrupt

[illegible] any bill, but [illegible] stand up respectfully —

[illegible] days [illegible] it be [illegible], and that [illegible] upon very urgent occasion, [illegible] — [illegible] at our sitting shall be sufficient at [illegible] [illegible] in the Speaker's Journal.

[illegible] bly, whilst the House is sitting, with sword or other weapon [illegible] of the Country or other grave apparel shall [illegible] of the Speaker and Delegates shall think fit.

[illegible] of the Knights and Burgesses Members bound to attend this Assembly, who shall be absent from — the House at the hour and place appointed, shall pay after the number of hours they are — absent, according to the order for settling the House, according to the discretion of the House — [illegible] careful Speaker, and admitted by the Speaker.

[illegible] shall be found and paid in the House.

[illegible] bill [illegible] to the House, and no one maker objecting thereto, Mr Speaker shall — [illegible] any one Member to speak to the said bill, and declare his opinion first, and so in order as the Speaker shall think fit and [illegible] out.

[illegible] whether Burgess, Delegate or City shall — [illegible] of any words spoken in the House to any bill or otherwise [illegible] bly of such fine, as the House shall think fit and impose [illegible] cation, shall by any two or more Members [illegible] House or whilst the House is sitting.

[illegible] for settling the House, and the Rules order — [illegible] approved thereof, and ordered the Clerk [illegible] this House to the publique view of all the — [illegible] accordingly.

This House adjourned until Munday morning nine a clock.

The 15th